About this Report

The National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) and its member colleges annually undertake the First-Destination Survey initiative*, which provides the profession with graduate outcomes based on common standards and protocols. (*NACE 2018 Report)

The data gathered supports the individual needs of member schools and provides reliable outcomes information to their stakeholders and accrediting bodies, and enables the professional community to track trends and inform the public policy debate on the value of higher education.
